Go Feel What I Have Felt.

[The circumstances which induced the writing of the following most touching and thrilling lines are as follows: A young lady of New York was in the habit of writing for the Philadelphia Ledger, on the subject of intemperance. Her writings were so full of pathos, and evinced such deep emotion of soul, that a friend of hers accused her of being a maniac on the subject of intemperance; whereupon she wrote the following:]

Go feel what I have felt,
Go bear what I have borne—
Sink 'neath a blow a father dealt,
And the cold world's proud scorn?
Then suffer on from year to year—
The side relief, the scorching tear,

Go kneel as I have knelt,
Implore, beseech, and pray—
Strive the besotted heart to melt,
The downward course to stay
Be dashed with bitter curse aside,
Your prayers burlesqued, your tears defied.

Go weep as I have wept,
O'er a loved father's fall—
See every promised blessing swept—
Youth's sweetness turned to gall;
Life's fading flower's strewed all the way
That brought me up to woman's day.

Go see what I have seen;
Behold the strong man bowed,
With gnashing teeth lie bathed in blood,
And cold and livid brow;
Go catch his withered glance, and see
There mirrored his soul's misery.

Go to the mother's side,
And her crushed bosom cheer;
Thine own deep anguish hide,
Wipe from her cheek the tear,
Mark the warm frame and withered brow,
The gray that streaks her dark hair now,
With fading form and trembling limb,
And trace the ruin back to him
Whose plighted faith in early youth,
Promised eternal love and truth.
But who, foresworn, hath yielded up
That promise to the cursed cup,
And led her down, through love and light,
And all that made her future bright;
And chained her there 'mid want and strife,
That lowly thing, a drunkard's wife;
And stamped on childhood's brow so mild
The withering blight, "the drunkard's child,"

Go hear, and see, and feel, and know
All that MY SOUL hath felt and known;
Then look upon the wine-cup's glow,
See if its beauty can atone;
Think if its flavor you will try,
When all proclaim "'tis drink and die!"

Tell me "I HATE the bowl!"
HATE is a feeble word;
I LOATHE—ABHOR—MY VERY SOUL
WITH STRONG DISGUST IS STIRR'D
When e'er I see, or hear, or tell,
Of the dark beverage of HELL!

Select Miscellany.

Young Womanhood.

Young womanhood!—the sweet moon on the horizon's verge—a thought matured, but not uttered—a conception warm and glowing, not embodied—the rich halo which precedes the rising sun—the rosy dawn that bespeaks the ripening peach—a flower—

A flower that is not quite a flower,
Yet is no more a bud.
Gallyher's Hyperion.

Young womanhood!—molasses touched with a little brimstone, spread on bread not buttered—a being all joints and angles, not filled out—an unformed form, deformed by stays—a pallid thing that loves the ripening peach—a young woman—

A woman which is not quite a woman,
Yet nothing more than a gal.
Brooklyn News.

Young womanhood!—a half moon not yet riz—a cake baked, but not turned—hot corn, all hot and smoking, not yet solid—a rich curdle which precedes the coming butter—the thickening down upon a goslin's back, that bespeaks the future goose—a butterfly—

A butterfly which is not a butterfly,
Yet ain't a catterpillar no how you can fix it.
Sunday News.

Now comes our turn. Young womanhood!—a giggle, something short of a horse laugh—small potatoes half grown—a body and limbs developed with padding—the exhibition of bone and muscle enough for a matrimonial squabble—substantial finger nails that bespeak first-rate scratching—a gandor—

A gander which is not quite a gander,
And yet is not a goose.
New Orleans Picayune

While it is on the way we may as well give it a shove; so here goes. Young womanhood!—a red blackberry, just green enough to be as sour as vinegar, a persimmon not yet frosted, yet ready to "puckor" anybody's mouth who touches her, a something which is neither fish, flesh, nor red herring, a "betweenity" too abstract for even a politician, a cat,

A cat which is not quite a cat,
And yet is not a kitten.
Baltimore Sun.

Now comes us. Young womanhood! a chicken in the shell, a "small potato" that isn't fit for family use, a piece of green "live timber," a herring half scorched over the fire, a moving sack of nothing tied around the middle, a young idea about taking the shoot, a lucifer match not yet ignited, a saucy cackling hen,

A hen which is not quite a hen,
Nor ain't an old rooster neither.
Coffeeville Intelligencer.

Good luck! If it's a "free fout," gentlemen, consider us in; we take one chance in that investment to a dead moral certainty, whether we win or loose by the investment. Here goes!

Young womanhood! werry small turnips, few in a hill, hard to dig, and when dug not worth shocks; a buckwheat cake badly done on one side, and nary drop of molasses in the house, undeveloped crinoline, piano-torturer, general teaser-in-chief to the whole family, embroyo ball room ornament, oyster shells, with the oyster just swallowed; an undeveloped rat; "in point of fact," as Micawber would say;

A cunning, sharp-eyed little mice,
That would be dear at any price.
Natchez Courier.

Young womanhood! a moving mass of undeveloped beauty, well supplied with tongue, a thing composed of powder, hoops, flowers and flounces; a substance to be by turns, pitied, loved and flattered; a puff of vanity, void of soft substances, well calculated to deceive, a pigeon,

A pigeon which is not quite a pigeon,
Yet 'twill not do to call a squab.
Jackson Flag.

We must have "a finger on the pie," if we get it burned for our impudence.

Young womanhood! a proof sheet with but one error to be corrected; a gingercake not quite done, but will do to take along if a fellow hasn't time to wait; milk and peaches that lack just a little more sugar, a five-franc piece that will answer the place of a dollar rather than take a ragged bill, a strawberry,

A strawberry that is not quite ripe,
Yet is no longer green.
Shelbyville Expositor.

Young womanhood! "A thing of beauty, a joy forever;" an object that leads to virtue, yet lures to vice; worthy at the highest price, yet deserves the severest censure; a modest rose, blushing and lovely; a blighted Upah, threatening and destructive; a small keg, an expanded hogshead, a thought of heaven with much to remind you of earth; heaven's greatest blessing, man's worst tormentor; in short, a strange compound of good and bad.—Young womanhood,

A dream which is not a dream,
And yet not quite reality.
Cincinnati Times.

Now comes our shove; so here we go. Young womanhood! a shining star beaming out softly between the rifted cloud, an angel without wings, a something incomputable, the value of which cannot be estimated; an ephemera, not living two days alike;

A thing of beauty—a joy always.
Until it comes to footing store bills.
Rockton Gazette.

WHAT WILL RUIN CHILDREN.—To have parents exercise partiality. This practice is lamentably prevalent. The first born, the only son or daughter, the beauty or wit of a household, is too commonly set apart, Joseph-like.

To be frequently put out of temper. A child ought always to be spared, as far as poisible, all just cause of irritation, and never be published for wrong doings, by taunts, cuffs, or ridicule.

To be suffered to go uncorrected to-day for the very thing for which chastisement was inflicted yesterday. With as much reason might a watch, which should be wound backward half the time, be expected to run as well, as a child thus trained become possessed of an estimable character.

To be corrected for accidental faults with the same severity as if they were those of intention. The child who does ill when he meant to do well, merits pity, not upbraiding. The disappointment to the young projector, attendant on the disastrous failure of any little enterprise, is of itself a sufficient punishment, even were the result brought about by carelessness. To add more is as cruel as it is hurtful.

To be made to feel that they were only burdens. Parents who give a child to understand that he is burdensome to them, need not be surprised should they one day be given to understand that they are burdensome to him. They should bear with childhood.

YOUNG AMERICA.—A certain Judge, while attending Court in a shire town, was passing along the road where a boy was letting down the bars to drive some cattle in. His father stood in the door of his house, on the opposite side of the road, and seeing what his hopeful boy was doing shouted out:

"John, don't you drive the cattle in there; I told you to put them in the pasture behind the house."

The boy took no notice whatever of the remonstrance, and his father repeated the order in a louder tone, without the least effect; and a third time gave orders not to drive the cattle in there. The son didn't even design to look up, and disobeyed the parental injunction with a coolness which positively shocked the Judge, who looking at the culprit, said, in a tone of official duty:

"Boy don't you hear your father speaking to you?"

"Oh, y-a-a-s," replied the youth, casting a glance at the Judge and then at the parent, "but I don't mind what he says. Mother don't neither; and twix she and I we've about got the dog so he don't."

Hung in Fun, and is Hung in Earnest.

A very sad affair, says the Hamilton, O. Intelligencer, transpired at Princeton, near our city, on Thursday last. A Mr. Daniel Elliott, who lives in Princeton, butchering beeves and selling them in the neighborhood, hung himself in his slaughter house. He was in an exceedingly good humor during the day and evening, and naturally of a playful disposition gave vent to it by many playful things. He had bought some cattle, had extended his business, was doing well, and felt lively and encouraged. He so expressed himself to his wife and friends. Going from the house to his stable he fed his horse, and taking his little girl and a neighbor's little boy, some thirteen years old, he went on about twenty-five yards from his house to the slaughter house. Here was a machine for raising dead cattle—a rope with a large hook in it run over a large reel, and attached to a windlass with a ratchet. Adjusting the rope in a noose around his neck, he playfully bid the little girl to go tell her mother "somebody was hanging out there who looked like "Dan Elliot." then showing the boy exactly how many, notches he bid him, still laughing, to draw him up. Once up he could not, because of the ratchet, get him down, and when in answer to the little girl's anxiety Mrs. E. came out, her husband hung dead, his feet touching the floor, and the hook pressing hard against his jugular. From all the circumstances, it is not doubted that the act was done accidentally in a burst of playfulness.

Facts for the Curious.

Thomas Jefferson and John Adams both died on the 4th of July, 1826—John Adams died in his ninety-first year and was eight years older than Thomas Jefferson; Thomas Jefferson was eight years older than James Madison; James Madison was eight years older than Jas. Monroe; James Monroe was eight years older than John Quincy Adams. The first five of the Presidents—all revolutionary men—ended their terms of service in the sixty-sixth year of their age. Washington, born February 22d, 1722, inaugurated 1789, term of service expired in the sixty-sixth year of his age. John Adams, born October 19th, 1735, inaugurated 1797, term of service expired in the sixty-sixth year of his age. Thomas Jefferson, born April 31st, 1743, inaugurated 1801, term of service expired in the sixty-sixth year of his age. James Madison, born March 5th, 1751, inaugurated 1809, term of service expired in the sixty-sixth year of his age. James Monroe, born April 2d, 1759, inaugurated 1817, term of service expired in the sixty-sixth year of his age.

WHY LADIES SHOULD READ NEWSPAPERS.—It is a great mistake in female education to keep a young lady's time and attention devoted only to the fashion-literature of the day. If you would qualify her for conversation, you must give her something to talk about—give her education with the actual world and its transpiring events. Urge her to read newspapers and become familiar with the present character and improvement of our race. History is of some importance, but the past world is dead, and we have nothing to do with it. Our thoughs and our concerns should be for the present world to know what it is and improve the condition of it. Let her have an intelligent opinion, and be able to sustain an intelligent conversation concerning the mental, moral, political and religious improvement of our time. Let the gilded annuals and poems on our center tables be kept part of the time covered with weekly and daily journals. Let the whole family—men, women and children—read the newspapers.

☞ Every young man should remember that the world has and always will honor industry. The vulgar and useless idler, whose energies of body and mind are rusting for want of exercise—the mistaken being who pursues amusement as a relief to his enervated muscles, or engages in exercises that produce no useful end, may look with scorn upon the smutty laborer engaged in his toil. But his scorn is an honor. Honest industry will secure the respect of the wise and good, and yield the rich fruit of an easy conscience, and give the heat self-respect, which is above all price.

COPARTNERSHIP.—A colored firm in Newark, N. J., having suffered some pecuniary embarrassments, recently closed business, and the senior member gave the following "notis" to the public:

"De disholution of coparships heretofore resisting twixt me and Moses Jones, in de barber perfession, am heretofore resolved. Pussons who ose must pay the inscriber. Dem what de furm ose must call on Jones, as de furm in insolved.

LIGUE JOHNSON."

☞ A lady, at her marriage, requested the clergyman to give out to be sung by the choir, the hymn commencing

"This is the way I long have sought,
And mourned because I found it not!"

Reminiscences of College Life.

CHAPTER IV.

The life of a student is pleasant in more respects than one. He finds pleasure in the pursuit of knowledge; in associations with his fellow-students; in the enjoyment of numerous diversions; in daily contact with superior minds; in the influence which is exerted around him; in the hopes which inspire him; and from many other different sources pleasure is derived. He has many advantages in life, and many opportunities for storing his mind with useful knowledge.

But amid all these enjoyments of a character so happy, sorrow often comes to cast a deep shadow over all and make his pathway dark. His life has its sorrow as well as its happiness. One of the means of causing the heart to feel sad and to put a stop to the out-gushings of merriment for a season, is the death of a beloved associate and friend. It not only stops for the genial flow of pleasure, but it casts a gloomy pall over the soul and gives the bereaved a shock from which it often requires months and sometimes years to recover.

To see a young man, almost ripe for usefulness, torn from friends and deprived of the accomplishment of great good to his fellow-men, and when the realization of his bright hopes are just within his grasp, seems hard to be endured and difficult to understand. Such a bereavement was experienced—such a loss we suffered one session at College. A promising member of the Junior class, a consistent member of the church of his choice, and a faithful friend to all, was stricken down in our very midst by the strong, unsparing arm of Death On Friday he took his bed and on the following Wednesday he was a corpse. His disease was pronounced to be the Brain Fever. His sufferings were intense, so much so indeed that it was with great difficulty that we could keep him in bed during the first two days of his illness, but after that time he became too weak to raise his head from the pillow. He had very few lucid moments from Saturday till he died. A short time before his spirit took its flight he said in audible tones: "I can't endure these pains much longer—I only want to go to Jesus; death is welcome—it has no terrors when Heaven is just beyond," and with a smile on his countenance while the clammy sweat stood upon his brow, he shortly after fell asleep. That was the first time I had ever seen a Christian die; and as I witnessed his resignation and happy frame of mind in the presence of death, while suffering untold agony, I thought that if religion was worth nothing in this or the future world, it had one power worth its possessing, and that was to make men die happy; and if it was a delusion, it was a glorious one, and I thanked God for it. We missed our departed brother much.—"Death loves a shining mark." He could not have gathered to his pale realms another of our number better prepared to go. I can truly say that our brother left behind him a character without a stain. He was a humble Christian and devout. He was an earnest one too, no lazy laggard in the service of God; but he labored with a will, showing his devotedness to his Master. Although he did much for His cause, by distributing good books and tracts among nearly all classes of people in this and one of the adjoining States during his vacations, yet he looked anxiously forward to the time when his sphere of usefulness might be enlarged. He was also a model of honesty; a firm, unflinching friend of truth; a lover of virtue; a servant of God. Thus he lived, and thus he died; yet not dead, only "gone before," for he sleeps in Jesus and lives in the hearts of his friends. I cannot pass a fitting encomium upon the character of the deceased, for it is so elevated, so lofty, that I can do no more than offer to his memory the tribute of a tear. About one hundred and fifty students followed his body to its last resting place on earth, the distant cemetery, where, no doubt, it has long since mingled with its mother dust. It was a long time before we were as blithe as formerly; but, alas! too soon the impressions of that death-bed scene were effaced from the memory of many; but I will never forget my departed friend, the fervent prayers he used to offer up, the sufferings he endured and the triumphant death he died. Oh, that my last moments may be like his!

☞ The landlord of a hotel at Brighton, entered in an angry mood, the sleeping apartment of a boarder, and said,

"Now, sir, I want you to pay your bill, and you must. I've asked you for it often enough; and I tell you now, that you don't leave my house till you pay it!"

"Good!" said his lodger; "just put that in writing; make a regular agreement of it; I'll stay with you as long as I live."

☞ "Cuff, why didn't you kick that dog?"

"What am de use of kicking every cur what snarls at you? Don't you know dat am de way when he wants you to bring him into notice?"

☞ The following is Martin Luther's description of a Christian: "A Christian is a child of God, a brother of Christ, a temple of the Holy Ghost, an heir of the kingdom, a companion of angels, a lord of the world, and a partaker of the divine nature." The Christian's glory is Christ in heaven, and Christ's glory is the Christian on earth. He is a worthy child of God, endued with Christ's righteousness, walking in holy fear and cheerful obedience before his Father, shining as a light in the world, a rose among thorns. He is a wonderfully beautiful creature of God, over which the holy angels rejoice, and attended and ministered unto by them wherever he goes. He is a wonder to the world, a terror to the devils, an ornament to the church, a delight to heaven. His heart is full of pain, his eyes full of tears for a perishing world, his mouth full of sighs, and his hands full of good deeds.

AN ETHIOPIAN VIEW OF THE SEX.—"Dey may rail agin woman as much as dey like, but dey can't set me again dem. I hab always in my life found dem to be fust in lub, fust in a quarrel, fust in de dance, fust in de ice-cream saloon and de fust, best, and de last in de sick room. What would we poor debils do without dem. Let us be born as young, as ugly, and as helpless as we please, and a woman's arm am open to receibe us. She it am who gubs us our fust dose ob caster oil, and puts cloze 'pon our helpless naked limbs, and cubbers up our foots and toeses in long flannel petticoats; and it am she, as we grew up, who fills our dinner baskets wid donuts and apples as we start to school, and licks us when we tears our trausis."

☞ The tongue of a humming bird is very curious. It has two tubes alongside of each other, like the two tubes of a double barreled gun. At the tip of the tongue the tubes are a little separated, and their ends are shaped like spoons. The honey is spooned up, as we say, and then it is drawn into the mouth through the long tubes of the tongue. But the bird uses its tongue another way. It catches insects, with it, for it lives on these as well as on honey. It catches them in this way; the two spoons grasp the insect like a pair of tongs, and the tongue bending, puts it into the birds mouth. The tongue, then, of the humming bird, is not merely one instrument, but it contains several instruments together—two pumps, two spoons and a pair of tongs.

A HOME THRUST FROM FLAVEL.—"Two things a master commits to his servant's care," saith one, "the child and the child's clothes." It will be a poor excuse for the servant to say at his master's return, "Sir, here are all the child's clothes, neat and clean, but the child is lost!" Much so with the account that many will give to God of their souls and bodies at the great day. Lord, here is my body. I was very grateful for it. I neglected nothing that belonged to its content and welfare; but for my soul, that is lost and cast away forever. I took little care and thought about it.

A GRAND OFFER.—Carrie A. Clarke thus writes to the Louisville Journal:

I bring thee a heart,—a stainless heart
As fresh and as pure as the mountain snow,
Still echoing back, with a clearer strain,
The song that you taught it long ago.
'Tis an humble thing,
The gift I bring;
My all, my fortune and my store,
Yet I bring it thee, I can bring no more.

What more could her lover ask? A stainless heart, a fortune and a store, possibly a dry goods store. Hold on to that gal!

SOLD!—A popular actor of Philadelphia went to Cape May a few days since. He accidentally left his watch on the dressing table. A friend going to the Cape took it down. In conjunction with a few others he got up a complimentary presentation. A presentation speech was made, and the reply was gratefully eloquent.—A feast followed, after which on going to his room, he opened the case, which enclosed the watch, and found it to be the one he had left at home!

PRETTY GOOD.—At the fourth of July celebration, at Lexington, Ky., the following toast was read, and received with hearty applause:

Hoops and Tight Pants—The unqualified representatives of financial extremes. May the charms of the ladies be as boundless as their skirts; and may the gents never get as tight as their breeches.

WONDERS OF THE MICROSCOPE.—The mould on decayed fruit, stale bread, moist wood, &c., is shown by the microscope to be plants bearing leaves, flowers, and seeds, and increasing with incredible rapidity, for, in a few hours, the seeds spring up, arrive at maturity, and bring forth seeds themselves so that many generations are perfected in a day.

☞ Why are hoops like an obstinate man? Because they stand out about two ells.

Printing in Dry Colors.

Having purchased the right to use the new patent process of printing in Dry Colors, we would inform the public that we are prepared to execute all descriptions of Job Work, such as Posters, Sale-Bills, Hand-Bills, Circulars, Displayed Cards, &c., &c., in colors, at prices, costing but a third more, than is now paid for similar work, done in the common black ink.—This process of printing in Dry Colors is entirely new and enables the operator to produce a great variety of colors and beautiful shades by a single impression, the materials being incomparably cheaper than any of the old processes, while the labor and time required is reduced in exact proportion as the number of colors and shades on one bill is increased. By this process, several colors can be produced on a bill printed in common black, blue, or red ink, thus enabling the Jobber to print any desired number of copies plain, and the balance in different colors, without once changing the ink or washing the roller, a result which cannot be attained by any other process at more than double the expense. The Colors thus produced are bright and durable, and can be variegated at the will and fancy of the Printer. Call and examine specimens.

CONGRESSIONAL CONFEREES.—The following are the names of the gentlemen selected as Congressional Conferees by the different County Conventions of this county:

American—Philip Hileman, James L. Gwin and Dr. John Ross—instructed for John Brotherline, Esq.

Republican—David Henchey, Samuel McCalmant and Dr. H. T. Coffey—favorable to S. S. Blair, Esq.

The Anti-Administration party of Somerset county have selected as Conferees, Col. John Weller, Maj. John Knable and Henry F. Swope, Esq.

The Union County Convention of Huntingdon county meets on Tuesday next, to nominate a county ticket and appoint Congressional Conferees.

A Union County Convention for the purpose of selecting Congression Conferees, for Cambria county, meets on Saturday next.

We presume the Conference will meet on to-morrow week, or on Tuesday of the week following.

☞ The Blair County Whig says it has an article on hand, in reply to one in the Tribune of last week, which has been deferred till next week. Why it was deferred, we are not informed, but presume it is intended to be a brought out just on the eve of the Congressional Conference and act as a "crusher" on the prospects of Mr. Brotherline. All right, Major, you are welcome to all it will benefit you. To the assertion that the article in our last issue was written by Mr. Brotherline, we merely reply that it is false, and the author no gentleman. We never considered the editor of the Whig a gentleman, and therefore expected nothing better of him. He may discuss the qualifications and popularity of Mr. B. as much as he pleases, so long as he sticks to the truth, without our interference; but should he attempt a pervertion of facts, he will find us ready.

☞ A notice in the last number of the Juniata Register, informs the public that Wm. M. Allison (formerly one of the editors of this paper) has purchased the interest of A. G. Allison, in that paper, and will hereafter have charge of the local department. The polical department will remain under the control of Col. Greer. The new firm has our best wishes for their pecuniary prosperity.

☞ Since the editor of the Pittsburg True Press is so anxious to receive credit for all articles copied from his paper, we think it would be "practising his preaching" to credit local items copied from the Tribune.

☞ Attention is requested to the advertisement of Emerson & Co., in another column, offering some rare gifts in connection with subscriptions to the United States Journal.

The Great Central Route to the West.

The election J. Edgar Thompson, Esq., to the Presidency of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, while at the same time he retains a like position on the Pennsylvania Railroad, will enable the two Roads to act in conjunction and make this the most convenient and desirable route to the West. The important results which may accrue from this virtual union of these two great Roads cannot be fully estimated at present. The New York Tribune, a paper naturally inclined to favor and promote the interest of the two great rival lines of its own State, leading into New York City, and not likely to over estimate the administrative ability of Mr. Thompson, says:

"The inducement for the selection of Mr. Thompson as head of both roads were ample, as well in his high character and experience as a railroad manager, as in the fact that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is the largest stockholder and bondholder in the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, and as its natural ally, is most deeply interested in its success.—Mr. Thompson entered into the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company as its Chief Engineer on the organization of the engineer department of that road in 1847, having previously established a high reputation as Chief Engineer and Superintendent of the Georgia Railroad. The Pennsylvania Railroad was located and constructed under his supervision. The character of the work to be done called for the highest order of engineering ability.

"In February, 1852, Mr. Thompson was elected President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and has since administered its affairs with eminent success. In thorough, practical knowledge of railroad affairs in every department, the fruit of long experience, and in administrative ability, he has few equals among railroad men in this country, and upon few men could so great a burden as he is about to assume rest with more certainty that it will be borne with honor to himself and satisfaction to the public and to the owners of the properties concerned."

☞ It is rumored says Saturday's New York Tribune, that Mr. John A. Washington, the present proprietor of Mount Vernon, designs to remove the remains which rest there before transferring the rest of the property to the women of the Union. Mr. Washington's speculations in walking sticks and in real estate are thought to prove him capable of even this not; but the question remains whether he can legally do it. The contract must be very loosely worded if it permit him to withdraw so large a part of the consideration. A purchase of the tomb of George Washington would probably be held to include the purchase of the contents of that tomb, unless they were specially excepted.

THE FALL OF MEXICO.—The London Morning Herald thinks that the fate of the Spanish race on the American continent is no longer doubtful—"as a ruling race, it is doomed to inevitable extinction." It thinks Mexico must fall under the protectorate of the United States, and it adds:

When the republic of Sierra Madre—should it be erected—comes to take its place alongside of its sister province, Texas, under the star spangled banner of the great North American Union, who will venture to say that its own interests and the interests of humanity have not been benefitted?

THE FREE LOVERS ABOUT TO EMIGRATE.—The free lovers of New York city and vicinity, under the lead of an ex-Rev. Mr. Tyler, have organized the "equitable emigration association," with a view to emigrating to some island of the Pacific, where they can have a nice little time, all to themselves. This scheme ought to be encouraged, and if there is any lack of funds for its complete success, every man who has the good of the community at heart will contribute freely to this voluntary purification of society.

☞ In August some time, the Rev. Samuel Bowman, lately elected assistant Episcopal Bishop for Pennsylvania, will be consecrated at Lancaster. Bishop Kember of Wisconsin will preside, and Rev. Dr. Potter of New York diocese, will preach the consecration sermon. It will prove an occasion of deep interest to the whole Episcopal church.

☞ THE Mormons of New York and neighboring States met in conference last Sunday afternoon and evening, the first meeting since the war. They were strong on peace, and manifested considerable satisfaction with the proceedings of the new Governor, as the resolution respecting him and the evening speech show.

☞ The Missouri Democrat prophecies that the Emancipation ticket will win in the State election of the first Monday in August. There are innumerable indications that the Emancipation party of Missouri is waxing formidable, not only in St. Louis, but throughout the State.

MERCER COUNTY.—An indignation meeting was held in West Salem on the 10th, growing out of the attempt to release noted criminals from the county jail. Strong resolutions were adopted. A vigilance committee was organized to look after the scoundrels.

Letter from Utah.

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY. July 29, 1858.

FRIEND JOE:—The advance of the army left Camp Scott on Sunday, June 13th, and was followed on the 14th by the General and staff, but in consequence of the bad condition of the roads and bridgeless rivers and streams, the main body did not arrive here until the 28th. They passed through the city very quietly, with the exception of one band, the members of which, to show their patriotism, to the denizens of a deserted city, played "that ar national hair," "Jordan am a hard road to trabel." They camped on the other side of Jordan, about 1½ miles from the city, where they remained until the 30th, when, in consequence of the absence of wood and good grazing, two very essential requisites, they moved up Jordan about 18 miles. Jordan river is the outlet of Utah Lake and empties into the Great Salt Lake, North of this place.

The majority of the Gentiles are now, and have been, boarding at the "Globe," an institution belonging to the Church, (as all good buildings do in this Church and Kingdon) but formerly a restaurant, where we are supplied with all the necessaries, and may be, some of the luxuries of life. No accommodations in the line of bedding is "comeatable," and the poor Gentile lays himself down on the soft side of a board, cellar door, stable yard, or wherever it is most convenient.

The citizens are now returning to their homes and I think all will be right in a few days. Ex-Gov. Young and a few of the heads of the Church are now in town and more are arriving every hour.

The majority of the brethren are now in the vicinity of Provo, where they have been for some four weeks past. They are now returning.

I believe projects are on foot to procure canon &c., from Gen. Johnson, to celebrate the 4th in a becoming manner.

The mail between this place and St. Joseph's on the Missouri, arrives very regularly, coming through now in 18 days. Rather fast, that; but Hookiday & Co., are the men to do it if it can be done. Very respectfully yours.

I. M. H.

TO J. G. ADLUM.

☞ Morphy, the great American chess player is now in England, and has already made his mark. The London Times contains the following notice of him:—

Mr. Morphy, who arrived out by the Africa, quietly walked into the St. George's Chess Club one night last week, and, after beating Mr. Lewen, who is a recognized champion, with the greatest ease, offered a challenge to Mr. Staunton, the British Caeur de Lion of the noble game. Mr. Staunton accepted the proposition sat down, went to work, almost cleared the board in some twenty moves, and was about withdrawing in contempt, when he was arrested by a "check," which in three moves more grew into a "mate." You may imagine the consternation of the hero and of the lookers on. "May I ask your name, Sir?" said Mr. S. "Certainly, Sir," replied his young antagonist. "My name is Morphy." "Oh! of America?" "Yes, Sir." "Ah! then, I am sorry, but I am not quite in play just now. I should rather not risk another game just at present." And so Mr. Staunton withdrew.—The event has excited quite as great sensation in the world of chess as was bred in the world of yachtsmen by the victory of the America; and Mr. Morphy has made up a match with Anderson, the Hungarian, upon which all England that playeth chess will, of course, be vehemently betting in the course of a fortnight. You may regard this as a set off, perhaps, against the defeat of Mr. Ten Broeck's horses, though it should be remembered that the battle even there is not yet given up.

ELECTIONS.—Between now and the eight of November next the Free States will elect 127 of the 236 members of the next United States House of Representatives, leaving nine to be elected in March and April next—three in New Hampshire, four in Connecticut, and two in Rhode Island. Vermont will commence the electing of members of the next Congress September 7th, and Maine will follow six days later in the same month. The Middle and Western States will elect their 118 in October and November.

AN ELEPHANTINE QUARREL.—A young elephant, born a few months ago in Paris, has, by some undutiful conduct, given offence to his sire. A strange and unnatural antipathy exists between the pair, and it was sought to diminish this feeling by bringing the animals somewhat into contact. The father was accordingly introduced into an enclosure, separated by a strong iron railing from his cub. The latter, on seeing him, at once commenced collecting sand and small pebbles in his trunk, and discharged them at the face of the elder animal. The other elephant immediately gave signs of terrible wrath; he withdrew to the extremity of the cage, and then charged down on the railing which separated them. Fortunately the iron withstood the shock, and the attendant succeeded in appeasing him. The family mutiny was at once brought to a close by the removal of the elder elephant.

THE WHISKEY REMEDY.—We learn from Clearfield, that a very estimable lady, for her piety and social qualities, of that place, while out one day last week, on the mountain near by, with a Whortleberrying party was bitten above the knee joint by a rattlesnake, after which, she calmly, coolly and deliberately cut the snake in two, placed its pieces upon the wound and took her garter and bound them fast, drank one quart of whiskey, swallowed three large pieces of tobacco, smoked six cigars and afterwards eat two pound of "Bear Grease!" At last accounts the lady appeared to be doing well, as she was trying to run down a wolf. We think this should be eveidence sufficient to establish the fact that "strychnine" is a speedy and certain cure for "snakebite."

A MURDERER HANGED BUT NOT KILLED.—One or two New England papers are arguing the question, Who killed Magee? a murderer who was hanged in Boston a few weeks ago, but whose body exhibited evidence of life and vitality at the subsequent dissection. A report of the post mortem examination, published in the Medical and Surgical Journal, suggests the idea that Magee was not killed by the hangman's rope, but by the scalpel of the surgical operator; that enough life remained after the hanging for proper applainces to have fanned itself into an active flame.

☞ Methodist Preachers' Salary.—Of the whole number of preachers of the Pittsburg Conference, twenty-nine got over $500, forty-two got between $400 and $500, forty-five got between $300 and $400, twenty four got $200 and $300 and thirty got less than $200. ☞ A Definition in Political Economy.—"Will you ever learn, my dear, the difference between real and exchangable value?" The question was put to a husband who had been lucky enough to be tied to a political economist in petticoats. "Oh, yes, my dear, I think I begin to see it." "Indeed!" responded the lady. "Yes," replied the husband. "For instance, my dear, I know your deep learning, and all your other virtues. That's your real value. But I know, also, that none of my married friends would swop wives with me. That's your exchangable value!"

APPLES.—The Portsmouth (N. Y.) Journal gives the following as a mode of determining the amount of fruit that may be expected from an orchard, which may be new to many of our readers:

Some years since, an old gentleman entered the orchard of his neighbor in the month of May, when the trees were in full bloom, and generally well filled with blossoms. After making a circuit of the orchard, he remarked—"Well, I see you are to have but few apples this year." Pointing to one full of blossoms. "You will have none on that tree." Pointing to another, equally full, "You will have a peck on that." Then to another, "You may have five bushels on that." Keeping a note of his remarks, in the autumn he found that his prediction were correct. On inquiry for indications, he said that red apple blossoms indicated fruit, and white did not.

☞ An Irish woman named Margaret Duff, about forty-four years of age, voluntarily threw herself upon the track of the Pennsylvania Railroad, about two miles from Pittsburg, on Friday afternoon, and was run over by the Blairsville Accommodation train, which was approaching the city at the time. The movements of the woman were observed by a passenger, at whose instigation the train was stopped, but not until it had passed over the woman. She was picked up, one foot and leg just below the knee were severed. She was then taken to the western Pennsylvania Hospital, and expired at two o'clock, three hours after the occurrence. The woman was observed to leave the woods as the train approached and prostrate herself upon the track, putting her hands over her eyes.—She told the nurses at the hospital that it was her desire to commit suicide, giving as a reason that she was tired of life.

To the Volunteers of Penn'a.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, Harrisburg July 22, 1858.

I have received many letters making inquiries as to the payment of Volunteers visiting the Encampment ordered at Williamsport, September 7, 1858, and it being impossible to answer all of these communications, I deem it proper to make this public reply.

The 6th article, sections 1 and 2 of the Constitution of our Commonwealth, requires its "freemen to be armed and disciplined for its defence," and in obedience to that injunction, our Legislatures from time to time, have passed laws regulating the Militia, the last law bearing date April 21, 1858.

Our Militia System, for many causes, has failed heretofore to accomplish the purpose, at least of discipline. The law of last winter was passed with especial reference to that design, and as an inducement to our able bodied citizens—farmers, mechanics laborers—to form themselves into companies uniformed and equipped in a proper manner, provided a payment to them of one dollar and fifty cents per day, (not to exceed six days) as some equivalent for the time consumed in schooling themselves in military tactics. The Legislature wisely provided for the proper payment of these and other military expenses, by authorizing and requiring a military tax to be assessed and collected throughout the State, and appropriated especially to the military fund, so much thereof as should be necessary to be used for military purposes, and directed the surplus left to be paid into the State Treasury. No other fund can be touched for the payment of the volunteer militia but this one; and the surplus, after it reaches the Treasury, cannot be touched for the payment of any Division or Brigade military expenses. The State Treasury is relieved from any burden or liability in these matters.

Every county in the State is constituted a Brigade, and the militia tax raised in each is applied to the payment of its military expenses, and if the military taxes paid are less than the expenses, the volunteers of that Brigade must then remain unpaid to that amount. There is established in every Brigade a Board of Auditors, composed of military men, who are required to audit the military expenses of their respective brigades, and are authorized to draw an order on the County Treasurer for such as shall meet their approbation, to be paid out of the military fund, if any, in the Treasurer's hands.

Military companies attending Camp "Susquehanna" in September next, are entitled to daily pay for their attendance, which will be paid out of the military fund of the brigade to which they respectively belong, but should there be no fund in the particular brigade to pay the same, then the companies will remain unpaid, but if the collectors are faithful in their duties, each baigade will have a fund more than sufficient for this and their ordinary expenses.

The rules and regulations from my office are now in the hands of the State Printer, and will soon be ready for publication. I make the following extract from them, as applicable to the present subject, viz:

MILITARY EXPENSES.

"The military fund in the State Treasury is responsible for no military expenses except those of the Adjutant General, General Staff, military storekeepers, repairs of arsenal and repairs of arms, &c.

If the military fund in any county is not sufficient for the payment of the expenses of the brigade, the county treasurer will make a pro rata division among the several claimants.

No officer whatever, in any division or brigade, has any authority to make expenses which shall in any event be chargeable to the State.

The county treasurers will be careful and observe the law, in making payments, and are directed—

1. To pay no military expenses unless on the order of the Board of Auditors, as directed by act of Assembly of April 21, 1858.

2. The salaries of Brigade Inspectors will not be paid until the close of the military year, being the last day in December in each year; if paid before, and the said Inspectors have not made their proper returns to this office, the treasurers do so at their own risk. The law requires this salary not to be paid until notice is given to treasurers by the Adjutant General.

The Brigade Board of Auditors will observe a proper economy in the expenses of their brigade, and pass no bills that are in any way exhorbitant.

All military officers are enjoined to take especial care that the proper assessments are made, and all the military taxes collected.

All collectors and treasurers will be held to a strict account, under the law in relation to the collection of military fines and taxes.

The Encampment at Williamsport will be large and respectable, and it is desired by this department that as many companies as possible be punctually in attendance at that time. It is a "Camp of Instruction," and many able military men from this and other States will be there to impart instruction and give to the volunteers assembled the benefit of their knowledge and experience.

However much we may regret their absence, yet those who cannot bear the additional expense are not expected to be in camp—but all who can do so conveniently should have military pride enough to attend promptly where duty calls them.

A sufficient number of excellent tents will be provided for the accommodation of all, and the Quartermaster General will assign quarters to all companies immediately on their arrival in camp.

In closing this communication, I am pleased to state that the Commonwealth is likely to receive a handsome surplus from the military fund, which will find its way into the sinking fund, and assist in paying the debt that hangs so heavily on our people.

Respectfully, EDWIN C. WILSON, Adjutant General

LOVE IN THE CARS.—The Harrisburg Herald says: One of the employees on the Pensylvania Railroad informs us of a singular adventure which occurred on the passenger train of cars coming into this place on Saturday evening last: In one of the cars a young gentleman seated, apparently deeply occupied in reading a book he held in his hand, until he got to Lancaster. At that place a very handsome young lady entered the cars, and took a seat opposite to him. Before she had been long in the train, the eyes of both met, and they recognized one another as old acquaintances when young, having been separated by their parents moving apart—those of one to the West, and of the other to Philadelphia. The two soon became enwrapt in earnest conversation, fell ardently in love with one another, and by the time they arrived in our borough, had resolved to be united as man and wife, and travel on their journey to the lady's home together. Accordingly, when the train arrived here, they took lodgings at a hotel, sent for a minister, and were united in the bonds of conubial bliss, and taking the next train, were off on their bridal tour.—Our informant says he is acquainted with the parties, and that they both occupy high positions in society

A TOAST WORTH READING.—At a dinner given by the military of Richmond to the military of New York, at the recent reintering of President Monroe's remains, the following toast was drank:

18. Woman—The joy and torment of man's life—the Alpha and Omega of his existence—from whom there is no appeal, whose slightest caprice is law, whose subjects are slaves, yet whose thraldom we desire to last forever.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR!
PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,
COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS.

Is one of the best Purgative and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic, easier, milder, and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The LIVER is one of the principal regulators of the human body; and when it performs its functions well, the powers of the system are fully developed. The stomach is almost entirely dependent on the healthy action of the Liver for the proper performance of its functions; when the stomach is at fault, and the whole such is at fault, the bowels system suffers in consequence of one organ—the LIVER—having ceased to do its duty. For the diseases of that organ, one of the proprietors has made it his study, in a practice of more than twenty years, to find some remedy wherewith to counteract the many derangements to which it is liable.

To prove that this remedy is at last found, any person troubled with LIVER COMPLAINT, in any of its forms, has but to try a bottle, and conviction is certain.

These Gums remove all the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, PURIFYING THE BLOOD, giving vigor and energy, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

BILIOUS ATTACKS are CURED, AND, WHEN IS USED, PREVENTED, by the occasional use of the LIVER INVIGORATOR.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents Nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures Costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

☞ One dose of two teaspoonful will always relieve SICK HEADACHE.

One bottle taken for female obstruction removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure.

Only one dose immediately relieves Cholic, while it is a sure cure for CHOLERA.

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for CHOLERA MORBUS, and a preventive of CHOLERA.

☞ Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

☞ One bottle taken for JAUNDICE removes all appearance from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and makes the food digest well.

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa, its worst forms, while Summer and Bowel complaints yield almost to the first dose.

One or two doses cures attacks caused by Worms in children: there is no surer, safer, or speedier remedy in the world, as it never fails.

A few bottles cures Dropsy by exciting the absorbents to action.

We take pleasure in recommending the medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

☞ Mix Water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR

IS A SCIENTIFIC MEDICAL DISCOVERY, and is daily working cures, almost too great to believe. It cures as if by magic, even the first dose giving benefit, and seldom more than one bottle is required to cure any kind of Liver Complaint, from the worst Jaundice or Dyspepsia to a common Headache, all of which are the result of a DISEASED LIVER.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. His hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend seeings his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative; we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxurient crop of hair soon started out and we can now say that our boy has a healthy a scalp, and as luxurient a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair.

OPPOSITION TO THE WATER-WORKS.—On Saturday evening last a meeting convened in front of the Masonic Temple, in response to a call issued by a few persons who are opposed to the introduction of water into our town. The call had been worded in such a manner as to create the impression in the minds of many that the Committee appointed at a previous meeting intended to report, else, we presume, there would scarcely have been a baker's dozen in attendance. When the plot of the opposers of the water works was discovered, and it because fully known that the meeting was intended to get up an opposition to this desirable object, the friends of the project very naturally set about counteracting and contradicting the false reports which were being circulated. The meeting was called to order by electing Dr. Ickes, who was the prime mover and chief spokesman of the opposition, President. After stating the object of the meeting, he proceeded to address the assemblage on the inexpediency of introducing water into the town at this time, crying "taxation!" "debt!" &c. After he had concluded, he invited any person in the audience, who had anything to say on the subject, to get up and speak, whereupon L. W. Hall, Esq., responded. He gave a full statement of the plan by which it was proposed to introduce water into the town, and showed most conclusively to the minds of all present, not even excepting the President, that now was the time, and the only time in all probability at which the borough would have an opportunity of obtaining water on advantageous and reasonable terms. We will not enter into an explanation of the means by which the town is to be supplied with water, as that is generally understood and approved by our citizens, suffice it to say that the remarks of Mr. Hall effectually knocked the wind out of the opponents of the measure, and on a vote being taken, on the motion to await the report of the Committee appointed at a previous meeting, there was a unanimous response in the affirmative. Thus ended in its favor, what was intended to be a meeting in opposition to the introduction of so desirable an element as water into our town, and our citizens saved the disgrace which a different result would have brought upon them. We hope to hear of no more opposition to the measure.

EDITORIAL VISITORS.—While engaged in mailing our last week's edition, who should pop into our sanctum but our old partner in the Juniata Sentinel, now editor of the Juniata Register, Col. A J. Greer. Time does not appear to have left her traces or any other part of her harness upon him, nor could we perceive that a change of views on political questions had changed the color of his hair. He is the same old Adam we knew so well in former days, and he will likely be "Old Adam" when he dies, if he lives a score of years longer.

On Thursday last, we had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of Hon. John A. Baker, of the Perry Freeman. We found in him what we had anticipated, a perfect gentleman, affable in conversation and manners. The Judge is one those firm and consistent politicians who are not wheedled around by every new ism that may be trumped up to suit the times.

Next came our "phunny" friend of the Standard. It is a pleasure to meet with such men as Traugh, and we always feel at home in their company. We are only sorry that we can not meet him more frequently. Like ourselves, he is a working man and stays at home to attend to his business. Like other busy bees, he molests no one unless they stir him up, whereupon he presents a "sting" that often makes his molesters feel uncomfortable.

LITERARY ASSOCIATION.—The excitement occasioned by the discussion of the subject of water works, we presume, caused the young men, and all those friendly to the formation of a library and literary association, to forget the meeting for that purpose, on Saturday evening last. We are sorry for this, as we had confidently anticipated that we should be able to make a good report of the meeting and announce the establishment of so desirable an association in our midst. We are not inclined to believe, however, that the young men of this place will permit the many good offers that have been made to them to go unaccepted.—There will be another meeting for the purpose of establishing and organizing an association of the kind referred to at early day, (due notice of which will be given by posters,) and then, young men of Altoona, do not let it be said of you that you were offered instruction and would not receive it, that knowledge was proffered but you declined it.

ENCAMPMENT.—The commissioned officers of the Blair County Brigade met in Military Hall, in this place, on Tuesday last, to decide upon the time and place for holding an encampment this fall. After considerable speechifying, Hollidaysburg was fixed upon as the place, and the 27th of September as the time for holding said encampment. We shall have more to say about the affair hereafter.

TALL BUCKWHEAT.—On Saturday evening last, Mr. Glass, residing about two miles west of this place, laid on our table a stalk of buckwheat, one month and three days old, which measures three feet and ten inches in length.—For buckwheat of that age, we think this is hard to beat.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Since we last noticed the improvements in this place, quite a number of large and handsome houses have been erected. In North Ward, Messrs. J. Shoemaker, C. R. Hostetter and Henry Burgen have each erected large and convenient buildings. Mr. Shoemaker's house is built in cottage style and is quite an improvement to that part of the town. The houses of Messrs. Hostetter and Burgen are double, intended for two families each. They are finished up in good style and add much to the appearance of their localities.

Mr. Jon. Conrad has just finished a large double house, on the corner of Julia and Branch streets, East Altoona which greatly improves the appearance of that part of the town. The houses are painted a beautiful lilac color, which gives them a neat and cheerful appearance.

Other houses have been built and improvements made which we can not think of at present, but will note again.

A NUISANCE.—For some time past, a half-witted darkey, who calls himself "Whistling Jack," has been cutting up all kinds of "didoes" in and about town, to the no small amusement of the juveniles, and extreme annoyance of many of our citizens. He is constantly whistling or singing, and is not particular as to whether his remarks on the street are offensive or not. On Monday evening last, Constable Ely took him up and placed him in the "Lock Up," where he kept up such a noise that the Councilmen, who were holding a meeting in the room above, ordered him to be turned out. At noon on Tuesday, the Constable arrested him again and placed him on the baggage car of the Branch Train intending to take him to Hollidaysburg. Jack has no fear of jails or "lock ups" as he says he can easily whistle himself out of either. One thing we sincerely hope, and that is, that he may stay away from this place.

☞ On Sunday last, we had the pleasure of listening to an aged and distinguished colored preacher named Harper, who held forth in the morning an evening in the Methodist church.—We were astonished at the masterly manner with which he grasped the deep and apparently hidden mysteries of the bible and made them plain as day, and the more so, when we were informed that he was uneducated, save what he had received since he had been admitted into the church. For a man of his age (67 years) he was remarkably strong, and delivered himself in a clear and distinct manner. His discourses were well received by the large audience in attendance on both occasions.

COMPLIMENTARY.—A correspondent of the Philadelphia Daily News, writing from this place, among other compliments to the town and its inhabitants, pays the following to the Tribune:—

Journalism, too, is cared for. A spicy, chaste newspaper, styled the "Altoona Tribune," is now in its third year, with a considerable circulation, and rising. It is under the control of Messrs McCrum & Dern, who seem to be of that stamp of men necessary to success; and no doubt, as the town improves, they will keep pace with it, or even outstrip it.

WATER COMMITTEE REPORT.—The committee appointed at the public meeting, held in front of the Post Office, a short time since, to act in conjunction with the Borough Council, in the matter of obtaining water to supply the inhabitants of the borough, met the Council on Monday evening last. The result of the conference was, that the Act of Assembly, passed in 1855, for this object, was deemed defective in character and incomplete in its provisions and required revision and amendment. Here, then, the matter will rest for the present.

GOOD FLOUR.—As a general thing, the dealers in flour, in this place, keep as good a quality on hand at all times, as can be found in similar stores in any town in the country. This being the case, we feel loath to recommend particularly the article kept by an individual dealer, but in justice to Mr. Henry Lehr we must say that the article furnished us by him a few days since, surpassed anything in that line which we have ever purchased in this or other towns. A trial will convince any one of the truth of our assertions.

SUPPER.—We learn that the ladies connected with the United Brethren Church, in this place, intend giving a supper in the basement room of the church, on the evening of the 13th of August next, the proceeds of which are to be applied to the liquidation of the debt of the church. From our acquaintance with some of those who will be engaged in getting up the entertainment we know it will be well worthy the patronoge of every young man and woman in town, and we hope they will all purchase tickets.

☞ We have been requested to give notice to the male members of the Methodist church, in this place and vicinity, that it is desired that as many of them as possibly can get away from home or leave their work, will repair to the grove selected for the Union Camp ground, on Monday morning next, and assist in preparing it for use on the occasion of the coming Union Camp Meeting. Delegations from Hollidaysburg Station and Williamsburg circuit will be in attendance on that day.

MOUNTAIN RESTAURANT.—The enterprising and gentlemanly proprietor of this popular saloon is having it fitted up in a style which will surpass anything of the kind in the country.—He has recently put up a billiard and bagatelle table for the amusement of his visitors. He spares no expense to make his saloon a popular resort, and we presume his outlay will be fully made up by an increase of patronage.

THE RAIN.—The copious showers of rain which descended so gently upon the parched earth on Sunday and Monday last, have revived vegetation wonderfully. The garden vegetables and field crops yet growing had began to recede instead of advance, but the timely watering has imparted fresh life and now everything looks green and promising.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—We learn from the Standard that a meeting of the Executive Committee of Blair County Agricultural Society was held in Hollidaysburg on the 27th ult.; at which it was deemed inexpedient, on account of the hard times, to hold a Fair this year.

UNION CAMP-MEETING EXCURSION TICKETS.—Excursion tickets will be issued from all stations on the Pennsylvania Railroad, between Huntingdon and Cresson, to this place, during the continuance of the Union Camp Meeting, from the 19th to the 28th of August. The tickets will be received on any train. This will afford every person an opportunity to be in attendance, and we expect to notice many availing themselves of it.

RELIGIOUS.—The Communion of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the Presbyterian Church, of Altoona, on Sabbath next, (8th inst.). Preaching on Friday and Saturday evenings at 7½ o'clock, and on Saturday morning at 10½ o'clock. Rev. A. P. Happer, M. D., will assist. The public are invited to attend, and the Christian friends of sister churches most cordially invited to unite in the celebration of the Supper.

A. B. CLARK, Pastor.

CELEBRATION.—We understand that the colored people of this place held a celebration in a grove, a short distance from town, on Monday last, (August 2d,) the anniversary of the emancipation of 8,000 slaves from the West India Islands. They had good things in abundance, and, like every thing got up in this place it passed off in fine style.

☞ A meeting for the purpose of organizing a Library Association will be held in the basement room of the Presbyterian church, on Monday evening next. The public is respectfully invited to attend.

☞ A Monmouth paper says, "in another column will be found the certificate of our fellow townsman, James W. Davidson, Esq., to Prof. Wood. This is another of the numerous instances where it has changed gray hair to raven ringlets, and bald scalps to waving locks. Let any who stand in need of this valuable remedy give it a fair trial."

CAUTION.—Beware of worthless imitations, as several are already in the market, called by different names. Use none unless the words (Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, Depot St. Louis, Mo., and New York,) are blown in the bottle. Sold by all Druggists and Patent Medicine dealers. Also by all Fancy and Toilet Goods dealers in the United States and Canada. See advertisement in this week's paper.

THE PANIC—MORE FAILURES.—The panic in New York seems to be on the increase. In this city everything goes on smoothly, and the only failures we have heard of were the failures to furnish good fits made by some inferior clothing establishments. There is no such difficulty to be encountered by those who patronize the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above sixth. Gentlemen and Youths never fail to procure capital fits at this popular establishment.

☞ See advertisement of Dr. Sandford's LIVER INVIGORATOR in another column.

THE BEST COUGH MEDICINE.—One of the very best Cough Medicines to be found anywhere, is Dr. Keysar's Pectoral Syrup, sold by G. W. Kessler, at 50 cents per bottle.

INTENSE EXCITEMENT!—McCORMICK'S NEW GOODS HAVE ARRIVED AND ARE NOW BEING OPENED FOR INSPECTION AND SALE.

"Halloo, neighbor, I'm here on the ground again. Perhaps you recollect when I, last year, asked you to hold my horse a moment and tell me where the CHEAP STORE was. But it is different now. It reminds me a little of the campaign of 1840, when Gen. Harrison was elected President. You have only to go with the crowd and you will have no difficulty in finding McCORMICK'S STORE. From the excitement down the valley, and the quantity of goods I see carried away, they must be selling off very rapidly and very cheap."

"You are right, my friend; I would say to you, sir, go ahead and your anticipations will be fully realized. He has a very large and well selected assortment of Goods. He'll sell you a dress for fifty cents and give the trimmings into the bargain, I'm told, and all other goods in proportion."

"Good bye, neighbor, that's where I am going to buy my goods."

"That's right, and so should everybody else. Good-bye."

The Butcher Boy's Love.

BY SAM GRINDEMOUT.

Oh, listen to my tale in verse,
Prepare to wipe your eye,
For you are most hard-hearted,
If you doesn't take and cry.

There was a lovely market girl,
Who had a market cart,
Who looked upon a butcher's boy,
And won his verdant heart.

His eyes were dark as blots of ink,
Her hazel eyes were blue,
His hair was of a chesnut brown,
And her's was golden too.

He was a tall and manly youth,
A very handsome feller,
His christian name was Peter Brown,
And her's was Isabella.

He used to squint across at her,
When she was shelling peas,
And think that every customer
Should go down on his knees.

He'd pick her out the finest bits,
Of meat most sweet and tender,
And he would rather talk to her
Than go upon a bender.

Imagine then this butcher's woe,
One sunny market day,
To find that Isabella Jones
From market stayed away.

And the next week he heard a tale
Of grief most bitter, carried
By Mr. Jones to Mr. Smith,
That Isabel was married.

He tore his hair, he raved and swore,
He stamped with both his feet,
He screamed with passion as he tore
Both up and down the street.

He vowed he'd something desperate do,
He would not stop to think,
But rushed into a neighboring store,
And there he—"took a drink."

Wit and Sentiment.

Pat and the Frogs.

Pat had taken a drap too much, and was on his return home, when he overheard a voice in the swamp, and supposing he had been recognized by an old acquaintance, something like the following conversation ensued:

Frog: Magee! Magee! Magee!

Pat: Faith, and that's my name; give us yours if it is convenient intirely.

Frog: Hugh Coulon! Hugh Coulon! Hugh Coulon!

Pat: By my sowl, you are a cousin of mine; whin did you come over?

Frog: Last Month! Month!

Pat: What does ye find to live on here in this bug sure?

Frog: Chunks! Chunks!

Pat: By St. Patrick, if ye repate that same I'll knock ye down with my shillelah sure.

Frog: Dead drunk! Dead drunk! Dead drunk!

Pat: Yer a liar; a murthering, blathering liar. Come on, if ye dare, ye spalpeen ye.

Frog: Fight em! Fight em! Fight em.

Pat: Thers more, nor one of yes, ye highway robbers. I'm the boy that can lick ye. Just tread on my coat tail wunst.

Frog: Chase em! Chase em! Chase em.

Pat: I'm on my way to Brawnsville, sure and if yoes follow me to Jim O'Flannegan's store, I'll stand up wid ye, and so I will, and won't strike ye after yer down.

Frog: Kill em! Kill em! Kill em! Kill em!

Pat: Now ye wouldn't kill a poor man whose got a wife and six children to feed wid pertates.

Frog: Moderation! Moderation! Moderation!

Pat: Now Darling, ye talk like a praste. Stip up and take a drink wid me out of this flask, for yer a broth of a boy.

Frog: Cold water! Cold water! Cold water!

Pat: Is it one of Father Matthew's medals-yes got? I never jiued the pledge.

Frog: Go home, yer drunk! Drunk! Drunk!

Pat: Go to the divil wid yer cold water, ye lying soung of a gun, or by blazes I'll tache ye how to be dacint. I'm in for a scrimmage wid ye now, sure.

Frog: Come on! Come on! Come on!

[Pat climbs the fence and falls head foremost into the swamp, but picks himself up again, puts on his slouched hat, and knee deep in soft mud, he swings his shallelah and threatens to send his opponent to a climate where there is not sufficient moisture to make a desirable place of residence, for the aquatic animal he was contending with. Hear him.]

Pat: It's myself that's here. Strike me if yer dare, ye cold water bull. I'll pull every hair in yer body out.

Frog: Good night! Good night! Good night!

Pat: Good night, honey. Sweet slape and a warm bed for yer, wid a good fire for ye.

Frog: Bridget Magee! Magee! Magee.

Pat: Poor sowl, she's in Brownsville, wid Cathleen and Parter.

Frog: Go home! Go home! Go home! Go home!

Pat: I'm off. Good luck to ye. May ye have plenty of bafe, pertates and whiskey, and may ye reform yer ways and leave the highways.

Thus ended the colloquy between Pat and the Frog. But Pat stuck to his whiskey, and the Frog to his water, until the former was drowned in a mill-pond, the latter was crisped on a gridiron.

GREAT DISCOVERY OF THE AGE
IMPORTANT TO
TOBACCO CHEWERS.
DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES, the great Substitute for Tobacco.

It is a well known and incontrovertable fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.

MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS

TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed will bear testimony—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.

THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES

Are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved completely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the entire system, restoring the Taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.

Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.

These Troches of Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.

Prepared solely by the undersigned to whom all orders should be addressed.
